I received my undergraduate degree in Psychology from Ohio State University and Cleveland State University. After graduation, I worked as a bilingual customer service representative and a legal recruiter. I am grateful for these jobs because of the valuable skills that I have transferred to teaching, such as maximizing my strengths.

In 2008, I received a Master of Arts in Special Education with a reading endorsement from Ursuline College. I worked as an Intervention Specialist at Constellation and Summit Academy Elementary and Middle Schools. My mission is for students to recognize the importance of reading, writing and education in general. I also strive to convey the importance of effort to students. I frequently repeat the words that a former teacher told me: "Don't let what you can't do interfere with what you can do."

In my free time, I like to go to yoga class and swim. I also like to spoil my 14 year old Shih Tzu Rudy.
