Perhaps useful if you wanted to look at bioengineering, the medical field in general, epidemiology, environmental science and activism (among others), or - something I would probably try - astrobiology! Ms. Mehlotra is someone that I believe likes to encourage such interesting aspects, and always makes sure that my classmates understand the content thoroughly - even though I might do separate studies and I am a quick learner, not everyone is exactly like me when it comes to learning newer and harder material. But looking at the big picture, I believe Ms. Mehlotra has a LOT of potential to be a great staff member as a teacher, as she seems to keep these lessons encouraging and she seems to keep her energy up, among others.
