

How We Do It

The School of Global Studies prepares students for the academic tasks they will encounter in college and the professional tasks they will perform in careers in an interconnected world

